REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

On the 6th of April, 1887, the town of San Mateo suffered from another disastrous fire, the large loss resulting from an utter lack of organized means of protection. This time the fire started in the only public building of the town, generally known as the library hall, in which was located the meeting place of the fraternal organizations of the town as well as the public library. Although the fire started in the middle of the afternoon, at a time when there were several people about, its origin was something of a mystery. The fire was first discovered in the upper story by the Misses Casey, ladies who conducted a dress making establishment in the building, and an alarm was immediately given. With no fire department and no apparatus, but little could be attempted in the way of staying the progress of the flames. As soon as the magnitude of the fire was realized an appeal was rushed to Redwood City for assistance. This was promptly responded to by the extending of a hose cart with a supply of hose. That no time was lost by the Redwood City citizens in their attempt to assist a neighbor, is shown by the fact that a team of horses driven by Mr. Stafford consumed but 18 minutes in making the trip. With the aid of the apparatus from Redwood the fire was confined to the building in which it had originated. The books and furniture of the public library located in the building were saved, as well as the stocks of the merchants occupying the lower floor. The lodges occupying the hall on the upper floor were also saved, but the contents were lost. The building was a comparatively new one, erected at a cost of about $12,000, and was insured for about half of this amount. Within a few days after the fire the Harmony Club, which had been instrumental in securing the funds for the erection of the hall met and resolved to push the work of reconstruction. At the same time steps were taken to guard against the repetition of the disaster by the organization of a fire department.

The first actual work of the National Government to assist in the keeping of Redwood Creek open to commercial navigation was started on the 21st of April, 1887. For more than a year prior to that time the people of the town had realized the necessity of preserving the means of commercial intercourse provided by nature and had implored Congress for aid. Through the assistance of Senator Felton an appropriation of $8,000 had been secured for the work. On that date a government dredger was towed down from San Francisco and anchored at Steinberger slough, from which point it was intended to work up to the center of town to the warehouse and dock sites. The dredger, while one of the largest at that time in use by the government on this coast, was a new machine of an untried pattern, this being its first work. Buckets, operated by an endless chain over a boom, were used to raise the mud from the bed of the creek. These conveyed the mud to the hold of the craft, from which it was pumped through pipes to the shore, some distance from the banks. The soil encountered was much more difficult to handle than had been anticipated and but slow progress was made, the appropriation being spent with little real benefit.

The Redwood City municipal election in the spring of 1887 was another quiet affair, there being practically no contest, and as a result a small interest was taken and a very light vote cast. A. Gordon and Thomas Hind were elected trustees; J. W. Glennan, clerk; Claus Hader, treasurer; William McDonald, marshal; A. Underhill, assessor; J. S. Hughes, superintendent of streets, and R. C. Welch police justice.

Subject for morning, "The Christian Race;" evening, "The Most Useless and Most Popular Sin."

Creek-Dredging Resumed

A smaller dredger arrived from San Francisco this week and the work of clearing out the creek will be continued from the tannery to the lift bridge on East Bradford street. The new dredger has a boom of 115 feet and is of proportions suited to the creek.

The Native Daughters of El Carmelo Parlor will give a grand masquerade ball on the evening of November 18th, in Colma Hall. The daughters never fail to have a large gathering and a jolly time. The coming one is sure to be their greatest social triumph.

New fall and winter styles just opened at Marcus' Department Store.

NATIVE SONS' MINSTREL SHOW SATURDAY NIGHT

One of the interesting events of the season will be the minstrel show and dance to be given by the Native Sons at the Alhambra Saturday evening next. Redwood Parlor will be assisted by Hesperian Parlor of San Francisco and their minstrel aggregation, which includes some of the best amateur performers on the coast. The dance music will be furnished by a big double orchestra. The following program will be rendered:

OVER TWO THOUSAND NEW MEMBERS OF WOODCRAFT

On the evening of November 10th, the Woodmen of the World will initiate a large class of candidates at the Valencia theatre in San Francisco. It is estimated that there will be about twenty-one hundred initiates. All the local lodges in San Francisco, from the towns across the bay and down the peninsula will contribute their quota in augmenting this wonderful demonstration of fraternal insurance brotherhood. Redwood City will also present a fine bunch of young men to be introduced into the mysteries of Woodcraft as can be found in this or any other country and it is expected that a large delegation of members will go from the ritualistic work as it will be put on by some of the most expert ritualists of this part of the State.

PEDAGOGUE SOCIAL TO BE GIVEN BY LOCAL TALENT.

A novel entertainment is being planned by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church, for Friday evening, Nov. 3d. It will be a "Pedagogue Social" and the scene will be an old country school house when our grandmothers were young. Original stunts in "readin' writin' and 'rithmetic" will be introduced, and a great deal of fun will be afforded by listening to the buzzing of the spelling bee—no one will be stung, however. The old fashioned schoolmaster will preside, ably assisted by the school inspector and the small boy with the tack. Many bits of information never before heard of will be given away absolutely free. Some of Redwood City's most prominent educators will attend. After the program a social will be enjoyed. Refreshments will be served. No admission will be charged, but if the entertainment pleases there will be a handy receptacle for nickels, dimes, quarters, etc.

OBJECTIONS MADE TO R. I. RATES FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

G. J. McGregor, J. M. Custer and Manager Fuller appeared before the Railroad Commission Tuesday to object to the proposed change in school commutation rates that the Southern Pacific wishes to make. The proposed rates would be 75 per cent of the present adult rate but as the boosters hold that this basic rate is high they object to any children's rate based upon it. The matter was taken under advisement by the Commission. Notification has been received from the Railroad Commission that the proposed new half-fare rate for children over the lines of the United Railroads is satisfactory to that body and will probably be in effect shortly.

Plans to Beautify Streets.

A. W. Ploda, the city's new engineer, has submitted a plan of street improvement to the citizen's committee of District 17, which if adopted will add much to the beauty of the town. Mr. Ploda's plan, which is largely in vogue in eastern cities, is to narrow the roadway of streets about to be built from 56 feet to 24 feet, using the surplus space—16 feet on each side—for parks or lawns. By adopting the plan the whole cost of building the streets will be reduced from 30 to 40 per cent. The cost of maintaining the park would be a trifle. The committee has Mr. Ploda's plan under consideration.

Pastor Parker Returns.

Rev. C. A. Parker, pastor of the Baptist church, returned home this week after an absence in the east of four months. Mr. Parker attended the General Congregation of Baptist churches in Philadelphia after which he journeyed to his old home in Maine. A pleasant event of his visit was a class reunion at Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island, from which institution Mr. Parker was graduated twenty-five years ago. During his spare time Mr. Parker delivered lectures with stereopticon views on California and aroused much interest in this State.

ALABAMA TRAINS FROM COAST TO NEW ORLEANS.

Modern travel, always luxurious, is to be made even more so by the Southern Pacific Sunset route. Plans for a new train to run twice weekly between New Orleans and Los Angeles and San Francisco, over the coast line, call for a cut of thirty hours in the running time between the two points. The new schedule, with its attendant comforts, has been brought about by the heavy winter travel between the two points on the Sunset route, and to care for this new equipment is now being built in the Pullman shops at Chicago.

The trains will be all steel. The cars will be of latest design and will contain every comfort now in use on the fastest and best equipped trains, and many new conveniences in addition.

A ladies' maid, manicure and hairdresser will aid in caring for the needs of the women. The men also will be well taken care of, there being a barber, shower bath, arrangements for pressing clothing and a stenographer aboard.

The berths are to be electric lighted, both upper and lower, and electric fans will cool the air of the car.

Service on the "Sunset Limited" will begin December 4th from New Orleans and the following day from San Francisco. The trains will leave New Orleans at 12:30 noon Mondays and Thursdays of each week and arrive in Los Angeles at 9:15 every Wednesday and Saturday, and in San Francisco at 11 a. m. the following day.

On the Eastern trip trains will leave San Francisco at 6:30 p. m. Tuesdays and Saturdays, Los Angeles at 8:30 a. m. the following day and arrive in New Orleans at 12:20 p. m. every Friday and Tuesday.

The luxuries afforded the traveler and the speed attained are such that an excess fare of $10 will be charged between the two terminals.

THREE-YEAR-OLD BOY WHO WANTED TO TRAVEL.

Little Willie Harvey, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey who reside on Beech street, has, despite his infantile age, a strong inclination to see the world. Last Friday the little fellow wandered away from home and made his way to the railroad station. When the 2:33 north-bound train arrived he attempted to board it but was stopped by the trainmen and turned over to the depot officials. When questioned the little fellow assumed a haughty attitude and refused to give out any information as to who he was or where he lived. Sheriff Mansfield was equally unsuccessful and when he attempted to bribe the boy with candy he was spurned with crushing hauteur. After making inquiries about town the sheriff succeeded in finding the little fellow's home and returned him to his almost distracted mother.

FORTNIGHTLY DANCES AT ALHAMBRA.

Joseph De Soto of San Jose, who has established a dance circuit around the bay, has arranged with Manager Plump to give two dances at the Alhambra each month, the first to take place November 4th. Mr. Soto has a fine orchestra and will play the very latest music. Gentlemen will be charged 50 cents and ladies will be admitted free.

RELATIVE MERIT OF BREWING BARLEYS.

It Is Expressed in the Percentage of Points It Receives.

Barleys will be valued according to the standards herewith given at the International barley and hop prize exhibition in Chicago, Oct. 12-22, 1911. The relative merit of a brewing barley is expressed in the percentage of points it receives. The total number of points is determined by deducting from the average of the sum of the credits the sum of the penalties corrected for percentage. The barleys will be valued on the basis of maturity, vitality (germinating ability), berry weight, uniformity, albumen (or nitrogen) content. These five divisions standing as credits, while penalties are provided for excessive amount of moisture, for trimmings (screenings, etc.), for inseparable admixtures, damage indicated by off color, off odor or by general impression and irregularity of growth.

Barley is disqualified if in any credit division it receives below eighty points and contains more than 20 per cent of screenings or more than 5 per cent of inseparable admixtures; or more than 15 per cent of moisture; if color, odor or general impression indicates heavy damage. Four and six rowed barley should contain approximately for each middle or straight furrowed kernel two lateral or twisted kernels.

The viability (germinating ability) will be determined after proper artificial drying of the specimen.

A Reasonable Excuse.
"Bridget," said Mrs. Subbubs sternly, "breakfast is half an hour late again."

"Yes, m'm," returned Bridget meekly.

"What excuse have you to offer? You know I told you that Mr. Subbubs must catch that early train, and punctuality at breakfast is absolutely necessary," said the lady.

"Sure an' Oi overslept" meself," said Bridget.

"That is no excuse," said the mistress. "I gave you an alarm clock only yesterday."

"Oi know that, m'm."

The unvarying success of Fred Raymond's comedy, "The Missouri Girl," has become proverbial among the theatrical profession and along the Rialto, or any place where actors congregate, you will hear the usual remark, "Hasn't he got a gold mine." The reason is plain. The play is one that creates fun and amusement in large quantities, the company presenting it is composed of the best people in the profession. It will appear at the Alhambra next Wednesday night.

John Hewitt, teamster at the S. H. Frank tannery plant, was robbed Sunday of a suit of clothes and $40 in cash by a man he had befriended. Hewitt permitted a man, who had come to the tannery, to pile bark to occupy his room in the barn with him. Some time on Sunday, in the absence of Hewitt, the fellow leant with cash and clothes. The thief has not been apprehended.

Mrs. Anna M. Ford of Astoria, Oregon and Miss Belle McCall of Chicago, sister and cousin of S. P. McCrea left for Los Angeles Thursday evening after a short visit with his family. Mrs. Ford has been in the photograph business in Astoria for the last eleven years, and Miss McCall was for many years a teacher in the public schools of Pittsburg. She is now returning to Chicago after three months spent in Redwood City in a short time for a longer visit. Both attended the Centennial celebration in Astoria, and both were much pleased with this part of California.

LOCAL FLOWER SHOW
AN IMMENSE SUCCESS

Floral Exhibition of Redwood City Women's Club Attracts Many Spectators

A bower of the most gorgeous blossoms that could be found in the cultured peninsula gardens, where perfect specimens of chrysanthemums, dahlias, carnations, rose and sweet pea abound, were gathered to mark the opening of the annual flower show of the Redwood City Women's Club. The exhibit was so large that it had to be placed in a large tent, which was pitched near the clubhouse, where the club women received their guests after they had visited flowerland.

The exhibition showed the high art of floriculture. The huge chrysanthemums were without a single defect. Each petal was uniform in shade and lines. One vase contained twenty-five varieties of this plant. A single plant beside it had 110 blossoms in full bloom. Over fifty kinds of dahlias were shown and a myriad of color of every bend could be found among the carnations.

The judges were Mrs. James Robinson of Redwood City, Sidney Clack of Mayfield, Frank Mills of Palo Alto, Mrs. S. E. Slade of Menlo Park and Mrs. Chas. Josselyn of Woodside.

H. Goertzahn won first prizes in all the classes of chrysanthemums, showing the best white, yellow, pink, red and vase of twenty-five varieties. Harry Dick of Menlo was awarded second prize, and the flowers from Miss Jennie Crocker's place in Hillsborough, which arrived too late to be judged, were given special mention.

M. Carter, who exhibited flowers from the Joseph A. Donohoe place in Menlo Park, won all the prizes for dahlias.

The prizes offered for the best display of carnations were given to Kenneth Murray of Redwood City who showed vases of white, pink, shell, pink cerise and red blossoms.

S. E. Slade carried all the prizes for roses, ferns and plants. The Slade exhibit, which was brought from the Slade home at Menlo Park, consisted of about 200 pieces.

The display will continue until this evening when the prize winning flowers will be auctioned. A fine program was rendered every evening. It was arranged by Gertrude Beeger.
